PARADISE GLINTS.

Paradise, May 14, 09.—J. B. Ready was a Paradise visitor last week. James Winter's house burned May 11. Most of his household goods were destroyed.

C. E. Kuhn went to Enterprise as juror, Sunday.

C. F. Sturm, Lake Osburn, Henry Sturm and James Barnes, went to Enterprise as witnesses in the state case against Dan Clark.

Will Robinson and daughter of Asotin, are attending court at Enterprise.

Mrs. Mary Barnes and her husband were doing business at the local notary's office; also R. J. Floyd, W. B. Applegate has renewed his commission and is prepared to do business at the old stand.

The Paradise correspondent of the Flora Journal, has quite a spasm about an item in the News Record in regard to some stealing in Paradise. Some grain and meat were stolen. Now this upbraiding that was in the Journal is not our way; that kind of people are not our kind. Anybody that likes that kind, it is all right with us.

Harve Norton and daughter came yesterday from Elgin.

There is a petition at the post office to have a mail route to here from Enterprise. Every one should sign this petition as the mail from Enterprise has to go to Wallowa before it comes here. We would secure our Eastern and Portland mail just as soon.

With all the care and pains we take, to fill prescriptions right. To fill them promptly at all hours. In the daytime or at night, you might think we'd charge some extra.

But such is not the case; when you want prescriptions filled Jackson & Weavers is the place.

LA GRANDE CHANGES ADVERTISING METHODS.

From La Grande Observer, May 13.

A new policy regarding the attainment of publicity for La Grande was begun at last night's meeting of the Commercial club when it was decided to use the local papers for distribution among home-seekers. The plan is to buy from each paper weekly subscriptions to the amount of $10.00, and to send to prospective settlers whose letters seem to warrant it, one of the papers for a period of three months. This will give the club an opportunity to furnish 800 inquiries with ordinary-every-day unvarnished information regarding our city and our resources that could be given by no reasonable amount of letter writing.

While specially prepared booklets, circulars and other commonly used means of advertising a community are good, there is always the danger of giving the recipients of such matter the feeling that our drawbacks are glossed over and our advantages exaggerated. Every day happenings facts about our crops, or fruit shipments, and in our civil life are told in every issue of the local papers, and readers will feel that they are getting the truth, plain and unvarnished. Then, if they decide to come to this section, they will do so with the intention of staying.

A BUSINESS PARABLE.

From Trafford (Pa.) News.
Once a farmer had 1,800 bushels of wheat, which he sold, not to a single grain merchant, but 1,800 different dealers, a bushel each. A few of them paid in cash, but far the greater number said it was not convenient then; they would pay later. A few months passed, and the man's bank account ran low. "How is this?" he said, "My 1,800 bushels of grain should have kept me in affluence until another crop is raised, but I have parted with the grain and have instead only a vast number of accounts, so small and scattered that I cannot get around and collect fast enough to pay expenses." So he posted up a public notice and asked all those who owed him to pay quickly. But few came.

The rest said, "Mine is only a small matter, and I will go and pay some of these days," forgetting that, though each account was very small, when all were put together they meant a large sum to the man. Things went on thus. The man got to feeling so bad that he fell out of bed and awoke, and running to his granary, found his 1,800 bushels of wheat still safe there. He had only been dreaming.

Moral.—The next day the man went to the publisher of his paper and said: "Here, sir, is the pay for your paper, and when next year's subscription is due you can depend on me to pay promptly. I stood in the position of an editor last night, and I know how he feels to have one's honest earned money scattered all over the country in small amounts."
